

THE EQUALIZER

Adegbalola 11/95

The blues don't know no color
The blues don't know no race
The blues don't know no color
The blues don't know no race
Black, white, red or yellow
Heartbreak has the same color face

The blues don't know yo money
Don't care if you're rich or poor
The blues don't know yo money
Don't care if you're rich or poor
The blues embezzles your heart
And bankrupts your happy home

The blues don't know no number
The blues don't know yo age
The blues don't know no number
The blues don't know yo ago
It makes the young grow old
And it fills the old with rage

Brige: It's the great equalizer
It makes us all the same
It's a universal feeling
And we're kin because of pain
Race, age or money
Straight, gay or bi
It's the mighty equalizer
Makes us all fall down and cry

1st verse with tag of last two lines several times:

Black, white, red or yellow
Heartbreak has the same color face
